Students' Exhibition

An event of unusual interest is the exhibition of work by students of the Carmel Summer School of Art, which will be open to the public every afternoon this week from 2 to 5 o'clock, in Arts and Crafts Hall.

The sketches shown have been selected from the work done by students during the ten weeks just closed, and are exceptionally good for student work. Much of it is worthy professional painting.

All who are interested in Art are invited to visit the exhibition, not only for the real enjoyment it will give them, but that they may know that Carmel possesses an art school of which they may well be proud and which they may recommend to their friends.

Not only here at home, but throughout the county, much interest has been aroused in Carmel's proposed incorporation plan. It is the general opinion that it is a move in the right direction.

Carmel to Have Red Cross Chapter

By Miss I. A. Johnson

A meeting to consider the formation of a Red Cross Chapter in Carmel was held last Thursday at the studio of Miss J. M. Collister. Miss Collister was made temporary chairman.

Mrs. William S. McCoy of Pasadena, who has had extensive experience in this line of endeavor, was asked to state what might be accomplished by a small chapter. She exhibited a number of examples of hospital supplies, for which the Red Cross literature gives explicit directions for both making and packing, so that it is not difficult to ascertain just what is feasible in planning work.

There is work for those who sew, for those who knit, for those who make. In fact, everyone can find the opportunity to lend a helping hand.

The object of the Red Cross is relief and aid, and in addition to the active work in disasters and war, a great deal has been accomplished in preventive work, as in first aid classes, notably among railroad men. During the past five years, 207,000 have received instruction, making a very obvious factor in intelliging first aid.

Another great national asset is the Town and Country Nursing Service, whose branches are too numerous to mention.

After much inspiring talk, the chairman appointed if it was the desire of those present to form a Carmel chapter. It was unanimously decided to do so.

Mrs. Philip Wilson and Mrs. E. F. Farringdon were made a committee on nomination of officers.

A central meeting place where workers could drop in at any time was considered an advantage. Mrs. Putho and Miss E. Elethendun are a committee to secure such a room.

A Carmel visitor donated $50, that the work might begin.

Many of Carmel are not excluded from this philanthropic enterprise and they are invited to make known their interest by joining.

Coast Section Likely to Have Floods

Perry Hill, United States forest ranger, who has returned from the section down the coast where the recent great fires have prevailed, has expressed the opinion that a portion of the Big Sur watershed was so badly devastated in the country south of Carmel that the section will suffer considerably in the event of a severe winter.

The fires in the Cone Peak and Carmel watershed sections south of here have been completely extinguished. In fact, the main efforts of the fire fighters were centered upon preventing the burning of the Carmel watershed, and this was accomplished.

County School Nurse

The Bureau for the Prevention of Tuberculosis of the State Board of Health has designated Miss Beatrice Woodward as nurse of the Monterey county schools.

This county is the first to have a school nurse. If the experiment warrants, other California counties will follow suit.

The children will be examined as to their health, with particular reference to tuberculosis. Reports will be made to parents.

Written for the Pine Cone

Never saw the waves so clean.
As in Carmel bay,
Greatest trees that ever grew,
Vivid sky above it, too—
Seem like God was lookin' through,
Smilin' all the day.

Scents of Nature in the air:
Tang of wood and sea;
Sunlight splashin' here and there
Through the pines so tall and spare;
Birds a-singing everywhere—
Happy, wild and free.

Night a-blin' soft and kind—
Like a velvet sheen;
Wraiths of fog that grope and wind
Stars a-peepin' out behind
Stones a-grinnin' at the moon—
Soothin' calm of gentle days.

A Joke on Turner
Sir Edwin Landseer, whose picture, "The Monarch of the Glen," changed hands recently, once perpetrated a joke on Turner which came out for otherwise than was expected. It was varnishing day at the Royal Academy, and Turner, who was preparing to varnish his picture, "The Terrace at Mortlake," had gone to lunch. Landseer saw his opportunity. He seized a piece of paper, cut out a small dog, painted it black, and stuck it on the "Terrace" in the painting. There was much expectation of a thrilling scene when Turner came back, but the great landscape painter disappointed him. He looked at the little dog as if he had always known of its existence, adjusted it to fit in better with the scheme of things, and then varnished the picture. And there the dog remains to this day.—Christian Science Monitor.

Vote for Johnson for U. S. Senator, in November
As goes Maine in September, does his trading at home.

Keep the Money Here

A dollar circled in Carmel is worth two circulated elsewhere.

A loyal citizen is one who does his trading at home. He who patronizes his fellow home merchant and instructs him to "buy at home." By helping your neighbor in business you are helping yourself to prosperity.

Why purchase from an outside solicitor when he pays nothing towards the police and fire protection of your city.

When you increase the pay roll of a local establishment with your patronage you are increasing the prosperity of your town and at the same time helping your own business.

A Busy Season Ahead

The summer season here which was abruptly cut short by the national railroad strike, will be more than compensated for by what now appears to be the most prosperous Fall and Winter season ever experienced here. Many cottages have been rented for one to six months, our storekeepers are carrying larger stocks than ever before at this time, and with the splendid new road connecting us with outside points, we should have a record breaking tourist business.

Carmel's beautiful white sand beach is free to all. Here one may walk, roll, and swim, and wade to his heart's content, and there is no one to bid him nay.

Mike Noon, the Monterey constable, was out here last week looking for trial jurors. He got a few, but in many instances was confronted with a judge reading "Carmel Fire Department."
CURRENT EVENTS

St. Anne's Guild will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ashburner and Cumming. A full attendance is desired.

H. L. Warren is busy these days taking a census of the residences of Carmel. His report will be presented to the Board of Supervisors at the October regular meeting.

Presidential election takes place on November 7. If you are not on the great register thirty days before that date you cannot vote. Register now at the Pine Cone office.

The Hilliard family and Lewis Josselyn spent the week end with the Ritschels, down the coast. On their return, Mr. Hilliard will depart on a two month's trip.

"Just forget it." Yes, that's it. Well bring that record you are going to give the school to the Pine Cone office today.

The local public school is not in session this week, as Monterey County Teachers' Institute is being held at Asilomar. Several of Miss Betty Waud's pupils gave a demonstration of class work yesterday.

Francis V. Keeling, comment ing on the Johnson success, said: "The question of nomination was before the Republican party. Unhesitatingly I shall abide by that verdict."

There will be a meeting of the Red Cross chapter on Tuesday afternoon, at three o'clock. The local public school is not in session this week, as Monterey County Teachers' Institute is being held at Asilomar. Several of Miss Betty Waud's pupils gave a demonstration of class work yesterday.
